

Take&Make #9 - Graham Cracker House

Gently break apart graham crackers into 6 squares.

To assemble the houses, squeeze a generous line of icing along the side of a cracker and place two pieces together like this:

Continue in this way until all four sides of the house are erected. For best results, let icing “glue” dry (approximately 30 minutes).

Assemble the roof like in the photo below and let it dry before attempting to place it atop the house.

When you put the roof on, there will be a little open space. If you'd like, you can use a sharp, serrated knife and very lightly cut another cracker to fill in that triangular space. Of course, you can also leave that space open if you prefer.

Attach the triangular piece (if using) and the roof using a generous amount of icing.

(can you tell which house is mine and which is the photo I got off the internet?! lol)

Let the icing glue set (again for 20-30 minutes), and then you're ready to decorate your construction with more icing, little candies and other fun things!
